Introduction
This course examines the international cooperation in the context of the world trading system. It covers the role of the World Trade Organization (WTO). The WTO agreements span trade in goods, trade in services, and intellectual property rights. We will also consider future challenges to the world trading system including the environment, labor standards, and competition policies.

Prerequisites
Econ 120, 130, or 131

Attendance and Conduct
Students are expected to attend all classes and read all assigned readings prior to class. Students are also expected to conduct themselves with academic honesty. Cheating or plagiarism will result in an automatic failure of the course.

Course Evaluation
Course grading is based on the following factors and proportion:
- Two mid-term exams (20% each)
- One final exam (20%)
- One writing assignment (20%)
- Participation and presentation (20%)

There will be no make-up exams for missed exams. Late submission of the writing assignment will cause a penalty: one letter grade reduction per day.

Writing Assignment
Each student submits a research paper. One can choose a topic under the research agenda of “an issue of trade policies in the United States and/or in other countries”. You can identify a topic in classroom discussions or in textbooks. It is encouraged that the paper reflects Q&A and discussion at the class presentation. The paper is typed and double-spaced, up to 8 pages including tables, charts, and/or graphs. The due date of the writing assignment is December 5.

Prior to working on the research, each student submits a research proposal of one paragraph by September 19. The research proposal should include the following elements:
- What is the issue?
- Why the topic is important?
- How you are going to research?
- What are possible conclusion or recommendations?

The proposal is for the purpose of research guidance, and not going to be graded. There is no specific format for the proposal. Don’t hesitate to ask the instructor if you are not clear about what you are going to research. Well-begun is half-done!

Class Presentation
Each student presents the research in the class on a designated day. It is highly recommended that the topic of the presentation is the same as the writing assignment. The presentation is for about 10 minutes, followed by Q&A and discussion. Depending on the class size, a joint presentation may be allowed. Format of the class presentation will be announced later.

Guest Lecturers
Several guest lecturers will be invited for the class. Tentative candidates include:
- Dr. Seiji Naya, Senior Visiting Fellow, East-West Center; former Director, Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism; former Chief Economist, Asian Development Bank. (Trade policies and development)
- Dr. Sumner La Croix, Department chair, Economics Department. (Intellectual property rights)
- Dr. Theresa Greaney, Professor, Economics Department. (Trade theory and policy)
- Dr. Tianshu Chu, Fellow, East-West Center. (Chinese economy)
